2. How super works

Super is a means of saving for retirement that is compulsory for most people. To encourage people to save for their retirement, the Federal Government provides a range of incentives for savings into super. This means super is taxed differently to other investments and there can be significant tax advantages with using super to save for retirement (see section 7 'How super is taxed' for more information).

There are different types of contributions that can be made into super including:

- Compulsory employer contributions (super guarantee contributions).
- Voluntary personal contributions.
- Concessional contributions (made with before-tax money, eg salary sacrifice contributions or tax deductible personal contributions).
- Non-concessional contributions (made with after-tax money, eg spouse contributions or after-tax personal contributions).
- Government co-contributions.
- Downsizer contributions (made from age 55 from the proceeds of selling your home).
- Rollovers/transfers.

Generally, it's compulsory for employers to make contributions to super on behalf of their employees. Most employees have the right to choose which super fund the employer should pay those compulsory contributions into.

There are some limitations on contributions to super:

- caps on the amount that can be contributed while retaining concessional tax treatment,
- limits on the age at which you can continue to make contributions; and
- no additional non-concessional contributions are permitted if you have $1.7 million or more in combined super and pension benefits.

Withdrawals of money from super are generally not allowed until you retire after reaching your preservation age (a pre-determined age based on your date of birth). In retirement, your super can be taken either as a lump sum or as an income stream or both. Although access to your super is restricted before retirement, you can withdraw voluntary contributions to help purchase your first home under the First Home Super Saver Scheme (FHSSS). Please refer to the IOOF general reference guide (IOF.02) available on our website for further information about the FHSSS.

i You should read the important information about 'Everything you need to know about contributions' and 'Accessing your super' before making a decision. Refer to the IOOF general reference guide (IOF.02) available on our website (www.ioof.com.au). The material relating to 'Everything you need to know about contributions' and 'Accessing your super' may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

4. Risks of super

Like any investment, there are risks associated with investing your super. Different investment options carry different levels of risk depending on the assets that make up those options. Assets with the highest expected long-term returns may also carry the highest level of short-term risk.

Other risks relevant to IOOF Employer Super and super generally include:

- The value of investments will vary over time.
- Returns are not guaranteed and past investment returns are not a reliable indicator of future performance. This means you may lose some of your money. In particular, if you leave IOOF Employer Super within a few years of joining, you may get back less than the amount you contributed because of low or negative investment returns, and the impact of fees, charges and taxes.

- Super and/or taxation laws could change in the future, which may affect the value of your super and/or the ability to access your benefit.
- The amount of your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough to provide adequately for retirement.
- Everyone has a different attitude towards risk and return. It is important to link your investment style to your age, investment timeframe, risk tolerance and any other investments you may have.

i You should read the important information about ‘More about risks’ before making a decision. Refer to the IOOF general reference guide (IOF.02) available on our website (www.ioof.com.au). The material relating to ‘More about risks’ may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

6. Fees and other costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower administration fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole. Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in another part of this document.

The fees quoted in this section may be different from the amounts deducted from your account. Please refer to the 'Your fees may be different' section in the General Reference Guide.

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment. The fees and other costs for each managed investment offered by the entity, are set out in the Investment Menu.

In certain circumstances, where it is reasonable for us to do so, we may alter the fees and costs applied to your super account (subject to law) without your consent. However, before doing so, we will provide you with 30 days' notice of any change. We also have the right to introduce new fees. The fees quoted in this section are inclusive of GST and any applicable reduced input tax credits unless otherwise stated.

7. How super is taxed

i Please provide your tax file number (TFN) when acquiring this product. Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, we are authorised to collect your TFN, which will only be used for lawful purposes and in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988. It is not an offence if you choose not to provide your TFN, but providing it has advantages, including:

- we will be able to accept all permitted contributions
- other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, you will not pay more tax than you need to, and
- it will be easier to find different super accounts in your name.

On joining IOOF Employer Super if you do provide your TFN to your employer, your employer must disclose it to us within 14 days to avoid penalties imposed by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Tax may apply to contributions, investment earnings and withdrawals. We generally deduct tax from your Cash Account at the time we need to pay it to the ATO. Accrued tax on contributions will be retained in your Cash Account and the remainder will be invested as per your Deposit Instruction.

Tax on contributions

As super is taxed in a low taxed environment, the Government has set a maximum limit that you can contribute in each financial year for each type of contribution before additional tax is payable.

i Warning: There are limits on the amount of contributions which can be made to super and you may be liable for additional tax on the excess contributions if these limits are exceeded.

Concessional (before-tax) contributions including super guarantee contributions, salary sacrifice contributions and tax deductible personal contributions are taxed at the rate of 15 per cent until you reach the concessional contributions cap. Individuals with income above $250,000 per annum will pay an additional 15 per cent tax on concessional contributions. Concessional contributions are subject to a cap of $27,500 per annum. Contributions over the cap are included as taxable income and taxed at the marginal tax rate with an excess concessional contributions charge (with tax offsets available for the tax already paid by the super fund).

Non-concessional (after-tax) contributions including personal after-tax and spouse contributions are not taxed in IOOF Employer Super but are capped at $110,000⁸ per person, per year (or $330,000 over three years for those individuals under age 75⁹). Downsize contributions are also not taxed in the Fund and have a separate cap of $300,000.

If your total superannuation balance (combined super and pension benefits) is greater than or equal to $1.7 million at the end of 30 June of the previous financial year, the non-concessional contributions cap will be reduced to nil. In this case, if you make non-concessional contributions in that year, you will have excess non-concessional contributions and taxed at the highest marginal tax rate.

You are assessed personally for any tax on excess contributions. Therefore it is your responsibility to ensure that you do not exceed these concessional and non-concessional contribution caps.

Tax on investment earnings

The advantage of super is that you can grow your investment in a low tax environment. The maximum rate of tax applied to earnings, which is the interest and investment income from your investment options, is 15 per cent. Capital gains are effectively taxed at the concessional rate of 10 per cent if the asset has been held for longer than 12 months.

Tax on withdrawal

When you are aged 60 or over lump sum cash withdrawals and pension payments are tax-free. If you are under 60 years of age and you are eligible to withdraw from your super, you may be taxed.

i You should read the important information about 'How super is taxed' before making a decision. Refer to the IOOF general reference guide (IOF.02) available on our website (www.ioof.com.au). The material relating to 'How super is taxed' may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.

⁷ Assuming your total superannuation balance is under $1.7 million on 30 June of the previous financial year.

⁸ If you are under 75 on 1 July of a financial year, you can access the bring-forward arrangement and contribute up to $330,000 in a single financial year. Your total super balance must be under $1.48 million to access this. More information is available in the General Reference Guide.

Cost of insurance

There are costs associated with insurance cover. These costs are known as insurance premiums and are at your own expense. Premiums may differ depending on your age and gender, the type and amount of cover and your occupation or plan rating factor.

For insurance cover that is provided outside Default or Customised Cover, the insurance premiums you pay may also differ depending on your leisure activities, your health and medical history and any loadings placed on your cover by the Insurer.

Warning: Unless you decline or cancel the default insurance cover provided, the cost of the cover will be deducted from your account.

You should read the IOOF insurance guide (IOF.03) available on our website (www.ioof.com.au) before making a decision. The material relating to the IOOF insurance guide (IOF.03) may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day you acquire the product.
