Step 3: Pending transactions

To provide you with an efficient service we will not wait for pending transactions to complete before we process your instructions. If you have a pending transaction (a redemption or purchase) currently in progress at the time we receive new instructions (Step 4: Investment redemptions or Step 5: Investment purchases) it may result in a variance to your instruction and your request may not be fully completed. This may result in a balance remaining in an investment where you intended to redeem 100 per cent.

By ticking the box below you can instruct us to wait for all pending transactions on investment options included in your new instructions to complete before we process your instructions.

- I acknowledge my request will not be actioned until all pending transactions on investment options included in my new instructions are completed.
